

Family Experiences of Vegetative and Minimally Conscious States

www.healthtalk.org/peoples-experiences/nerves-brain

Families share their experiences on the award-winning website healthtalk.org

Research by Professor Jenny Kitzinger (Cardiff University) & Professor Celia Kitzinger (University of York),
Co-Directors of the Coma and Disorders of Consciousness Research Centre (cdoc.org.uk)

I am so proud that he has survived, against all odds.

For so long the only thing that enabled me to cope was telling myself that my son was injured but he was still there.

I'll be frank, when I got the call to say my wife had passed away, it was a relief.

Find out about issues such as:

Critical care

Treatment decisions in the Intensive Care Unit

Longer term care

Rehabilitation and care centres – Recovery – A 'Permanent' diagnosis – Hospital re-admissions

Impact on family and friends

Hope – Grief – Impact of visiting – Impact on children – Family unity and differences – Reflections on own end of life wishes

Ongoing decisions

Resuscitation – Treatment of infections – Artificial nutrition and hydration

Death and dying

Repeated life-threatening incidents – Bereavement after severe brain injury

Endorsements

Winner of British Medical Association 'Patient Information Award' (2016) for 'Information on Ethical Issues'

"It is an excellent website and should be the resource for Health Care professionals, including managers and commissioners, because it covers all aspects and presents most of the possible points of view. (Professor Derick Wade, Oxford Centre for Enablement)

"It's an invaluable complement to the National Clinical Guidelines and will help health care professionals to deliver the guidelines in practice" (Professor Lynne Turner-Stokes, Chair of the Royal College of Physicians Guidelines Development Group)

"On this wonderful website we can hear others expressing their heartfelt thoughts and fears, and putting it so eloquently - you don't feel so alone." (Angela Bolton, family member)